6 One-Pagers to Keep Within Reach

Cheat Sheet #1 — The 5-Minute Pre-Talk Routine

Run this before EVERY live, webinar, recording, or pitch.

1. Physiological sigh — 60s. Double inhale (nose), long exhale (mouth). 5 rounds.
2. Power posture — 60s. Stand tall, shoulders back, arms open.
3. Outcome sentence — 30s. Out loud: "After this, they will be able to ____."
4. Rehearse the first 30 seconds — 2 min. Say your opening out loud, twice.
5. Relabel — 30s. "This is not nerves. This is READINESS. This energy is fuel."
6. Fire your anchor — 10s. Squeeze thumb + middle finger, three seconds, right before you roll.

Nerves peak in the first 30 seconds. Script and drill ONLY that part. The rest is notes.

Cheat Sheet #2 — The HPPP Talk Skeleton

Works for a 60-second reel or a 60-minute webinar.

HOOK — earn attention in 5–30 seconds. Pick one: - Stakes: "In the next 10 minutes you'll learn __." - Story: "Eighteen months ago __. Then one thing changed." - Contrarian: "Everything you've heard about is backwards." - Question: "What would happen to your business if __?"

POINT — your Core Idea, stated as a claim: "If they remember one sentence: ____."

PROOF — one of each: - Personal story (what happened to you) - Pattern (what you've seen across clients/data) - Principle (why it works)

PAYOFF — one clear action: download / try tonight / comment the word / buy.

Rules: ONE core idea per talk. Never open with logistics. Always close with an action.

Cheat Sheet #3 — Camera & Delivery Checklist

Frame (30-second check before going live): - ☐ Lens at eye level - ☐ Eyes on top-third line - ☐ Arm's-length distance, hands visible - ☐ Light in FRONT of you - ☐ Background: clean, depth, nothing moving

Delivery dials: - ☐ PACE — slow to half-speed for the key line - ☐ PAUSE — 3 full seconds after the big point; pause instead of "um" - ☐ PITCH — statements end DOWN; stories lift, conclusions drop - ☐ POWER — belly breath, projected a notch above "normal"

Camera rules: - Speak to ONE person ("you", never "you guys") - Key lines + CTAs → straight into the LENS - Gesture inside the box (shoulders to waist), open palms on offers - Energy: 20% more than feels natural — do a 30s shakeout first

Cheat Sheet #4 — Speaking-to-Sell Quick Reference

Trust ledger rhythm: Teach 70% · Story 20% · Offer 10%

The Webinar Spine: 1. Hook + promise (“...whether or not you ever buy from me”) 2. Origin story (BAB: Before → After → Bridge) 3. The shift (your Core Idea reframe) 4. Framework (teach 3 real steps honestly) 5. The Turn: “You can do this yourself — or let me show you the shortcut.” (Say it SLOWLY.) 6. Offer stack (component → outcome, price after value) 7. Objection pre-emptions: time / money / “will it work for me” 8. Close: one CTA, said three times, honest urgency only 60-second PSR pitch: Problem (15s) → Solution (15s) → Result + question (15s) → then SILENCE.

Live room rules: chat is fuel not the boss · repeat the question, answer, bridge back · agree with the skeptic’s kernel once, move on · narrate tech failures calmly.

Cheat Sheet #5 — 30-Day Practice Tracker

Comeback rule: miss a day → restart tomorrow. Never “start over Monday.”

Cheat Sheet #6 — The NLP Patterns (all 12, one page)

Mindset (Module 1) - Reframe — don’t fight the feeling, rename it. “This is not nerves. This is READINESS.” - Confidence Anchor — relive a peak state, turn it up, squeeze thumb + middle finger at the peak, 3 seconds. Five reps builds the switch. Fire it before every record.

Message (Module 2) - Presupposition — build the conclusion into the grammar. “WHEN you finish...”, “As you start applying this...” Never “if”. - Embedded command — an instruction inside an ordinary sentence. “You can DOWNLOAD THIS TONIGHT and see the difference.”

Voice (Module 3) - Analog marking — mark key words with a change in sound: slower · lower · louder · silence before. Mark the idea, the command, the price. Never the filler. - Auditory pacing — open near THEIR energy (a 5), then lead them up (an 8). Never open at your peak.

Camera (Module 4) - State transfer — you can’t match them, so model the state you want them in. Write your state line at the top of every script: calm, warm, certain. - Sensory acuity, online — your audience’s tells are the retention graph and the comments. Read them weekly.

Story (Module 5) - Nested loops — open a story, delay the ending, close it at the end. Two or three, closed in reverse order. Always close every loop. - Submodality shifts — BEFORE: small, dark, tight, distant. AFTER: big, bright, loud, close. You're directing their internal cinema.

Selling (Module 6) - Pace-and-lead — three statements that are already true in their world, THEN the pivot. Never lead before you pace. - Yes-set — three small genuine agreements before the big ask. Agreement is momentum. - Future pacing — let them own the result before you name the price. "Picture yourself thirty days from now..." Ends in a question.

Permanence (Module 7) - The Swish — trigger picture → small bright new picture in the corner → one, two, THREE, it explodes forward → break state → repeat faster. 5 reps, 90 seconds, every morning of Week 1. - Identity-level change — not "I'm working on my speaking." Instead: "I'm a speaker who's getting sharper." Behaviour follows identity.

The one ethical rule: every pattern here makes TRUE things land harder. Use them to sell something that works, to people it's right for. That's the whole line — and it's the reason they keep working.
